
Read this first!

Posted by Will - 2007/06/29 01:56

Welcome to our new Share Your Work forum. Just a few comments and recommendations before we get started...

1. Post each new piece of work as a new message thread
2. Please make sure that your responses are friendly. We writers are sensitive souls, after all...
3. At the same time, do feel free to be critical (whilst remaining friendly). Friendly and incisive criticism is what we want.
4. It's best to post work that you feel is as resolved as it can be without somebody else looking at it. This gives those reading it more to get their teeth into
5. Don't post whole novels, 300 page epic poems, or retellings of the Mahabharata (unless abridged). Keep posts long enough to get the flavour and short enough to be readable.

Good luck!

Will :cheer:

Post edited by: Will, at: 2007/06/29 01:57

=====